The DCI asked about Mr. Stassen. Mr. [] reported that he believed General Clay was going to make the first approach. [] thinks that Stassen is favorably disposed. Mr. [] will check this.

Mr. [] reported that Admiral Stevens had presided over a large meeting of JCS representatives in regard to the Magnitude Paper. Some apprehension was expressed over the proposed position of CIA as against that of the Military. General McClure's office appears slightly hostile. The Director stated that Admiral Stevens and General Magruder had been of the greatest help.
